

Preservation librarian is named

PROVO — Ellen McCrady, editor and publisher of the Abbey Newsletter, the principal news organ in the field of conservation of library materials, has been appointed preservation librarian at Brigham Young University.

Ms. McCrady will head the newly organized preservation department, which will consolidate preservation activities within the Harold B. Lee Library, Associate University Librarian Dean Larsen said. She will be responsible for the organization of preservation and conservation activities for all library collections and will assist the library administration in developing preservation policies and public educational programs.

Ms. McCrady has published the Abbey Newsletter since 1975 and will continue as editor and publisher.

She earned bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan and completed her advanced certificate in preservation administration at Columbia University. She has held positions at the Detroit Public Library, the University of Michigan and the Library of Congress.

The new librarian is a member of several professional organizations, including the American Institute for Conservation, Friends of the Dard Hunter Paper Museum and the Technical Association of the Pulp and Paper Industry.

CONTEST

Jerry McGhie, 288 W. Second North, Alpine, picked all 12 winners last week to capture the Utah County prep football picks contest. Jerry claims this week's $50 cash prize and, along with the runners-up, will be in the running for 1985 BYU season football tickets.

tional League East, you'd have to add a new dimension to the word "cold" if the Dinos beat the Cavemen.

OTHER MATCHUPS in the first round of the playoffs include Spanish Fork at Provo, Timpview at Pleasant Grove and Orem at Springville.

Seriously, anything can happen in the playoffs. Good teams can play like losers. Mediocre teams can play like champs. But if previous games between the two conferences mean anything. . . .

In non-region confrontations, Region 7 dominated play, posting a 7-4 record. The only Region 8 wins other than Carbon over Uintah were Springville beating Mountain View and Pleasant Grove downing the Bruins and Orem.
